Terrell Mill Animal Hospital
Hospital Admission Form

Your pet will be undergoing a procedure that will require a general anesthesia. Rest assured that modern veterinary anesthesia and surgical procedures are relatively safe, with a very low rate of complications. However, occasional problems can arise due to pre-existing conditions not evident during a routine physical examination.

Because of the extra requirements placed on your pet's vital systems during surgery, we feel that pre-surgical blood screening tests to evaluate kidney and liver function are essential. These tests are required in sick and geriatric patients and strongly recommended for all patients that will undergo a general anesthesia.

If there are any questions concerning these matters, a member of our staff will be happy to discuss them with you in more detail.

I've read the above information and understand its contents.
